SPRING.

Tap! tap! pray what is that?—
Under the leaves where the wind and breeze
Play—hide and seek.
Hush! hark! a rife in meadow lark
Has heard the sound from the earth
frost-bound,
Where tiny faces peep.
Tap! tap! why, what is that?—
Two folded hands from drowsy lands
Offering a violet.
A purple hood in the briar-wood
And downcast face of winsome grace
With eyes tear-wet.
Tap! tap! Now what is that?—
The song of spring with laugh and ring.
A rife in heaven's blue.
The stream and brook with crooked
hook
Its silver line our hearts entwine—
Making us captives, too.

Citizen George Washington Lockington of Hilo did his best to welcome the English cruisers to the Big Island city. He had no British flags, but hoisted a couple of Hawaiian flags to the breeze, as they were half British. Frank Medcalf personally hoisted the English ensign over the house of T. H. Davies & Co., while the Hotel Demosthenes and Firemen's Hall flung out the Stars and Stripes.

Baseball players met on Monday evening last in Hilo, when all the teams paid their ten-dollar fees for the season, three senior and three junior clubs. The arrangement of a schedule was postponed till Monday next. There were four nominations for umpire—Baird, Cool, Cressman and Dr. Colville—the election to take place next Monday. It is said that a plot is being formed to elect Cool, as the players want to get even for what, they claim, were certain iniquitous decisions last season. H. B. Man was elected scorer and groundkeeper, and the ground will be rolled and put in condition as soon as the weather will permit. For the opening day the players are discussing an idea to give their lady patronesses in the grandstand some ice cream and cake.
